

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Our quality of home life is much more pleasant without unsolicited interruptions from the telephone. We used to receive at least 5 calls a day, at all times of the day, from solicitors. We NEVER buy anything from these people or give to their charities as requested. I usually hang up on them, which is very rude and not my character.